Lifelong Learning Programme

"TO CLIL or NOT TO CLIL"

Comparing CLIL methodologies with other teaching strategies

The aim of the project is the comparison between ordinary methodologies in non linguistic subjects and CLIL strategies. The main structure of the project is:

- o analysis of the methodologies normally used in each country through the presentation of some video recorded examples of lessons;
- o analysis of the innovative methodologies and the best practices actually used in our countries through the presentation of some video recorded examples of lessons in English, as L2, using CLIL or other bilingual methods;
- o experimentation with new teaching methodologies, involving the students in the evaluation;
- o enlarge the number of students and teachers involved, with questionnaires and interviews;
- o dissemination of the collected materials and results.
